

COLE Feuchter – Content Creator & Actor

Cole Feuchter is an Androgynous voice actor and content creator based out of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Starting out as an indie voice actor for video games and audiobooks, Cole ventured out into content creation with their channel, The Retrocade (Twitch), with partner, Kiba Walker.

Cole worked as a content creator for GameStop TV, the in-store network for GameStop and appeared in stores nationwide as well as on their YouTube channel, in segments called All-In. They also worked in tandem with the Sandbox, a community content creation team that started in 2018, producing segments based around video game franchises.

They currently work for Crunchyroll as a contract voice actor and have appeared in various anime including BLUELOCK as the voice of Tada Tomonari, One Piece as Wheel, The Saint's Magic Power is Omnipotent, Akudama Drive, Kaguya-sama Love is War, The Case Study of Vanitas, and voiced the lead character, Asakura, in Ishida and Asakura. Cole also has a degree in the Japanese language as well as a proficiency certificate, graduating from the University of North Texas in 2018.
